

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

TONY ALEXANDER

Just as we were looking forward to a post-Covid surge in economic activity, along comes Russia's invasion of Ukraine. Commodity prices have soared, confidence levels have declined, and the multi-decade shift towards greater internationalisation of the world economy may have come to an end.

How is New Zealand placed to handle the changes lying ahead? The cost of living is soaring and interest rates rising. But this is not the 1970s and a wage-price spiral eventually requiring the Reserve Bank to create a deep recession to get inflation under control is not likely.

Businesses are struggling to find labour and materials. These problems are likely to persist all through 2022 into 2023, with a likely loss of young people to Australia causing staffing problems to worsen for a few more years.

Looking forward to sharing my insights on the above with you all.

You can also check out my weekly column for OneRoof in the NZ Herald.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

CHARLOTTE LOCKHART

Charlotte Lockhart is a business advocate, investor, and philanthropist with more than 25 years' experience in multiple industries locally and overseas.

As founder and managing director for the 4 Day Week Global campaign she works promoting internationally the benefits of a productivity-focused and reduced-hour workplace. Through this, she is on the board of the Wellbeing Research Centre at Oxford University and the advisory boards of the US campaign and the Ireland campaign for the 4 Day Week.

Since a diagnosis with Stage 4 breast cancer, Charlotte has become very focused on changing the way we work today to a better, more inclusive experience for everyone.

In their spare time Charlotte and Andrew enjoy working in their vineyard business on Waiheke and spending time with family.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER ORGANISED CHAOS CHRISTINE RANKIN

Christine Rankin started life in the little town of Blackball on the West Coast of the South Island where her father was a coal miner. Her childhood was very challenging to say the least. At 25 she found herself on DPB with two small boys.

From Beneficiary to Temporary Clerk in the Department of Social Welfare, against all odds, she went on to have a glittering career achieving many firsts in the Public Sector. She became CEO of Work and Income NZ in 1998 only to see this career take a death defying crash in 1999.

Her story of that time is she says “not only a shocking story but a travesty” and one that made her for a long period of time- The most hated woman in New Zealand. Despite nationwide controversy regarding her short skirts and big earrings Christine won the Best Dressed woman in NZ in 2001 and was a runner up in 2006. Christine has gone on to rebuild her life and her career which includes Radio and Television commentating including a radio talk show with Radio Live.

She has been the CEO of several organisations and Director of The Transformational Leadership Company, in partnership with her son Matthew. Christine has also had a career in local Government, and is currently the Deputy Mayor of Taupo and a member of the Lakes District Health Board. She has also had a very successful career as a public speaker for the past 20 years.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

ORGANISED CHAOS

MONICA MOORE

Monica Moore is a dynamic award-winning international speaker, award-winning author and a coach. She is experienced in digital and live presentations.

Known as ‘The Communication Evolutionist’ she engages sensitively with her target audiences through tailored keynotes and presentations specialising in communication, decision making, company culture and innovation. She has a special interest and notable success empowering women.

Her approach is comedic, infused with important and inspirational messages, ensuring that audiences leave with tips and tools to enable them to personally evolve in the areas they seek.

Monica is the current President of the Professional Speakers Association of New Zealand. She is an accredited member and an Associate of the Trinity College in London for Communication (Distinction). She is also the recipient of the Fast Track Speakers Scholarship (2020) and the Brightstar Speaker of the Year (2021).

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

ORGANISED CHAOS

JULIA GRACE

Julia Grace is an international keynote speaker and Tui award winning singer-songwriter, with a strong background in Health Education. Using a unique blend of Science, Story and Song, Julia shares her personal journey with depression and anxiety to encourage audiences to Be Kind to their Minds.

Tackling a heavy topic with a lighter touch, she specialises in practical tools and language around mental health that anyone can use. Audiences laugh, cry and learn with this unique communicator.

Julia's keynotes and workshops are focussed around using her 'Grab-Able words' to develop a Mental Wellness first-aid plan for your business, team or family. Themes include:

The Wobbly Point: Planning for the Tough Stuff
Make a Big Scene, and Carry On: Positive Communication
Happy Hobbies: Creating Calming Brain Breaks
One Degree of Change: Small Steps towards Wellbeing

Julia is the current Vice President of the Professional Speakers Association of New Zealand and Founder of the Juliagrace Charitable Trust, a Mental Wellness educational initiative.

Organised Chaos

SPEAKERS • COACHES • AUTHORS

Experienced Live and Digital Presenters

Julia Grace

Christine Rankin

Monica Moore

Three powerhouse professional speakers, with decades of experience and wisdom, make up the unique presentation trio that is Organised Chaos.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER ORGANISED CHAOS

Specialising in business growth in key areas of Leadership, Communication and Practical Wellbeing, Christine Rankin, Monica Moore and Julia Grace draw on collective expertise, individual areas of research and lived experience. Wherever your business is wanting to head, they will help you go From HERE to THERE.

What draws them together is a desire to see teams succeed by:

- Nurturing a healthy Transformational Leadership style;
- Creating strong, collaborative communication;
- Developing a Mental Wellness First Aid Kit to support staff .

What sets them apart is their fun, interactive and entertaining way of tackling the hard topics with a lighter touch - they call themselves 'The Hits of the 50s, 60s and 70s!'

More About
Organised Chaos

